Raising Up Leaders: Denman Fellow David Thomas

The Foundation for Evangelism funds the Harry Denman Fellowships for scholars in the United Methodist tradition who are pursuing doctoral studies in evangelism or related disciplines. The fellowships encourage and equip persons who express a desire to teach evangelism in United Methodist schools of theology or institutions of higher education. A Foundation for Theological Education (AFTE) partners with The Foundation for Evangelism to administer these fellowships through their John Wesley Fellowship Program.

Rev. David Thomas is a Denman Fellow who has left full-time ministry to pursue a PhD at the University of Bristol, England...

Events for June

When The Foundation for Evangelism's headquarters was built, our goal was to invite groups to use the space for meetings, gatherings and retreats. The facilities can accommodate groups as small as 2 or as large as 140. The meeting space is modern, efficient, convenient, and provides groups with the tools necessary for a great gathering. During the month of June, the Foundation will be hosting many special events during Annual Conference meetings...

The Blessings of Maggie Petreska

Into each of our lives come people who inspire and encourage us in our faith journey. Maggie Petreska is one of those people for each of us at The Foundation for Evangelism. In February, Maggie received the opportunity to serve The United Methodist Church in another capacity at Wesley Theological Seminary. Even in the sadness we feel at having her leave us, we are excited that she is once again following where God is leading her to serve.

A native of Macedonia, Maggie came to the United States to attend high school...
